

True Potential Balanced Portfolio

Portfolio Objective

The objective of the True Potential Balanced Portfolio is to provide investors with a way to achieve their investment goals. The Portfolio offers full exposure to different manager styles within the Balanced risk profile. We review the Portfolio monthly and, if necessary, rebalance to the allocation of styles that we believe offers the best opportunity for growth within the Balanced risk profile. The Portfolio aims to produce a higher risk-adjusted outcome at a lower average cost, compared to an equally-weighted model of Balanced funds.

Risk Profile: Balanced

The Balanced Investor may be somewhat concerned with short-term losses and may shift to a more stable option in the event of significant losses. The safeties of investment and return are typically of equal importance to the Balanced Investor.

Investment Commentary

The True Potential Balanced Portfolio produced a return of +0.67% for the month of July, net of Portfolio OCF.

Fixed income outperformed equity markets, with longer dated sovereign bonds particularly strong. Within equities, there was a reversal of leadership compared to earlier in the year. US equities, particularly within the information technology and communication services sectors, relatively underperformed. Investors instead looked toward regions and sectors with cheaper valuation levels after the strong returns that have stretched valuation levels in certain sectors and in particular anything artificial intelligence related. Domestic UK equities fared particularly well in this environment, with Japanese equities also producing good returns in GBP terms.

The True Potential Schroder Balanced fund provided the strongest returns against this backdrop, with the fund's relatively large exposure to UK and Japanese equities beneficial. The fund's allocation to Gold, through both physical Gold and Gold mining companies, also contributed positively.

Over the month, no changes were made to manager allocations within the Portfolios with the investment team believing positioning was optimal. Although no changes have been made to manager allocations, the True Potential manager cohort have been adjusting positioning. Examples include additions to domestically focussed UK companies as well as to the US equity market. Within fixed income, additions have been made to higher yielding European corporate bonds and also Emerging Market Debt.
