

True Potential 7IM Aggressive

31 December 2024

Fund objective

The Fund aims to provide growth over a rolling 3-year period, net of fees.

December Investment Manager commentary

Major stock markets ended the year on a negative note, weighed down by a stronger US dollar and weakened expectations for further interest-rate cuts in the US. The Federal Reserve cut rates by 0.25% but raised inflation forecasts for 2025. Government bonds struggled due to rising US Treasury yields and political instability in Europe. Gold prices fell, and a short-lived oil rally was impacted by weakening global demand.

The True Potential 7IM Aggressive fund fell 2.13% (net of fees) in December. US and US-focused equity allocations, particularly mining and healthcare, detracted from performance. The UK equity segment also posted negative returns, while Japanese ESG equities were detrimental. European and emerging market (EM) equities outperformed but remained in the red overall. Elsewhere, the fund's allocation to global real estate was impacted by weak sentiment towards the sector.
