

True Potential Threadneedle Monthly Income

31 January 2025

Fund objective

The Fund aims to achieve regular income growth with prospects of capital growth. Income will be paid monthly where the level of income within the Fund allows.

January Investment Manager commentary

Major stock markets began the year strong. European and UK equities outperformed, driven by a better eurozone outlook and a weaker US dollar. US Treasury yields spiked due to higher inflation expectations from President Trump's policies (including tariffs and tax cuts), but later eased, with sovereign bonds showing modest returns. Elsewhere, gold prices rose.

The True Potential Threadneedle Monthly Income Fund returned 3.01% (net of fees). The fund's higher equity exposure relative to peers proved beneficial in a month of strong equity returns. The FTSE All Share index outperformed global equities, helping the fund, as the equity allocation is fully invested in the UK. At the stock level, British luxury fashion company Burberry was the most notable contributor by some distance; the shares rallied following a better-than-expected quarterly earnings report. The fund's holdings in pharmaceutical firm Hikma, engineering company Smiths Group and consumer goods giant Reckitt Benckiser also boosted relative performance. In fixed income, the fund's allocations to UK corporate bonds and long-dated UK Gilts were supportive. At the issuer level, the most notable contributors included German state-owned bank KfW, carmaker Volkswagen and utility Western Power.

What is the benchmark for this fund?

The benchmark for this fund is Morningstar UK Moderately Adventurous Target Allocation. The benchmark may be used as a guide to compare and assess the performance of the Fund. This benchmark tracks the performance of an index that represents assets or securities with a similar risk profile to the Fund. Our aim is to help you monitor how your investment is performing. This benchmark reflects the multi-asset nature and relative risk profile of the Fund. The Fund does not use the benchmark as a target, nor is the Fund constrained by it. The mix of assets in the Fund may vary from those of the benchmark (and its constituents). Accordingly, it should be used for reference purposes only.

Risks

The following are some of the key risks associated with investing in this Fund. For a complete list of risks, please refer to the Fund's prospectus, available at www.truepotential.co.uk/fund-documents. Please be aware that there is no guarantee that capital will be preserved.

Risk type	Description
Performance Risk	Investment objectives express an intended result but there is no guarantee that such a result will be achieved. Depending on market conditions and the macro-economic environment, certain investment types and styles may perform better than others and investment objectives may become more difficult to achieve.
Counterparty Risk	There may be cases where the organisation from which we buy a derivative, or an asset, fails to meet its obligations. The Fund's cash deposits are also subject to counterparty risk.
Derivative Risk	The Fund is entitled to use derivatives. Derivatives may not achieve their intended purpose. Their prices may move up or down significantly over relatively short periods of time which may result in losses greater than the amount paid.
Operational Risk	The Fund faces non-market risk, relating to purchasing, holding and servicing the Fund's assets.
Credit Risk	Where the Fund invests in bonds, there is a risk the bond issuer may fail to meet its repayments. Changes in interest rates, inflation and the creditworthiness of the bond issuer may also affect the bond's market value. This risk is particularly relevant where the fund invests in bonds with a lower credit rating.
Liquidity Risk	Certain market conditions could make sufficiently liquid assets difficult to sell quickly at a fair price. This could result in an unpredictable fall in the value, and overall liquidity of the Fund.
